Every Corn Vanishes by Using Wonderful, Simple "Gels-It." Never Fails. Applied in 2 Seconds.

Isn't it wonderful what a difference just a little "Gels-It" makes—on corns and calluses? It's always right somewhere in the world, with many folks humped up, with cork-creased faces, gouging, picking, drilling out their corns, making packages of their toes with plasters, bandages, tape and contraptions,—and the "holier" in their corns goes on forever! Don't you do it. Use "Gels-It." It's marvelous, simple, never fails. Apply it in 2 seconds. Nothing to stick to the stocking, hurt or irritate the toe. Pain stops. Corn comes "clean off," quick. It's one of the gems of the world. Try it—you'll kick—from joy. For corns, calluses, warts, bunions. "Gels-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"Wheel! I Don't Care! I Got Rid of My Corns With 'Gels-It'!"

Sold in Hopkinsville and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by L. L. Elgin and J. O. Cook.

ONLY DAUGHTER

Of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins Dies After Long Illness.

Ruth Atkins, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins, died on Tuesday night at 9:15 at the home of her parents on the Clarksville Pike. She had been in poor health for a long time and everything possible had been done for her relief. About a year ago she was taken to the Mayo hospital and her condition was very much improved by the treatment there, and it was hoped that she would be entirely restored to health. Whooping cough contracted during the winter, however, undermined the strength that had been gained and in spite of the constant care and attention of devoted parents, friends and physicians the end was inevitable. The sympathy of the entire community is given to the parents in this loss of their only daughter. Two little boys survive. Little Ruth was ten years old on the 20th of last November. Funeral services at the cemetery at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon.

SOUTH CHRISTIAN NOTES.

Magnificent clover crop of the county worth many thousands.

More grasses for Christian county.

Among the farmers of South Christian who are paying especial attention to legumes and permanent meadows is Mr. M. A. Mason, who has a four year old meadow (Wingo Mixture). He will sow a lot of Crimson Clover and Alfalfa this summer, and is planning an up-to-date hog forage and feeding demonstration. He has a fine farm, well managed, and a beautiful home in the midst of splendid old forest trees.

In the same neighborhood Dr. Bell has a fine farm. Mr. Tom E. Rober's is operating the farm and has a good field of wheat.

King Peacock, the fine stallion, the property of Mr. B. P. Eubanks, is a splendid looking fellow, and is in fine fettle. He is a good one and has won many premiums. See him.

Coming in from South Christian on the Clarksville pike, beautiful homes greet one's eyes. Mr. R. H. Rives has a fine home on a fine farmer's farm. Mr. Rives is a believer in live stock and soil improvement.

Mr. H. I. Minty has a fine home, good cattle and is improving his farm. Messrs. J. J. Robertson, W. H. King, J. J. Van Cleve and Fred Harned, are among the very best farmers in the State. Mr. Robertson has splendid young cattle, also Mr. Van Cleve. Mr. Hugh Henry works his stallion on the farm, and it is a good idea; gives vitality and stamina. Mr. Henry knows how.

Coming on in one sees Judge W. T. Fowler's handsome home. Judge Fowler is what is usually called an agriculturist (one who has other means of support). But the Judge knows his business, even though he is a lawyer. He has a fine flock of sheep, the best paying animal on the farm.

Muke Nelson has the best barley in the county, and plenty of fine clover and FISH.

On the Renshaw farm thrives the prettiest pony on earth. He is a stallion, wonderfully marked, and his colts favor him. Some great Rhode Island Reds also reside there, and we see as well a beautiful field of alfalfa.

Mr. Guy Starling, another agriculturist, is developing into a soil builder of the highest order. He has nine acres of alfalfa, and twenty-five of Red Clover on a 70-acre farm. He is having his crops and farm cultivated by a good tenant. He will sow Sweet Clover in washes this year. Watch him grow.

Mr. Henry Altsheler will make you sit up and take notice. He is sowing lime rock (2½ tons per acre) on cow pea ground to be turned under for alfalfa. He will crush a lot of rock this year on his own farm, and it is predicted he will make one of the very best citizens the county affords. You can learn something from him. Talk to him.

Mr. J. C. Johnson has a lot of fine wheat and clover, as well as an alfalfa field of several years' standing. (Another agriculturist who know how to farm).

Dr. T. W. Blakey is also an agriculturist, who appreciates alfalfa, and

WHAT CHAMP CLARK SAYS OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

In Character and Achievements He Overtopped Them All, Says Clark.

Champ Clark addressing the congregation of a Washington church declared that George Washington was the "foremost uninspired mortal in the entire history of the human race."

"Many great men have lived and wrought in this glorious world," he said, "but in completeness of character and in the far reaching important and beneficent results of his laborious achievements Washington overtops them all."

"Some may object that Washington occasionally drank a mint julep, bet on a horse race, danced the Virginia reel and at Monmouth swore because Gen. Charles Lee spoiled the plan of battle by retreating when ordered to charge. But we must judge men by knows how to farm.

Mr. Geo. R. Pierce is growing alfalfa. Mr. Miller, on the Canton pike, has a flock of Rhode Island Reds.

Mr. C. R. Bouldin is growing alfalfa. Mr. J. H. Stevenson, farming Mr. Richard Leavell's farm, has a wonderful field of wheat for this year.

Mrs. G. E. Brewer is breeding up a fine flock of White Wyandottes. Mrs. H. I. Minty is improving her flock of White Wyandottes with new blood.

Mr. M. H. Carroll has fine clover and is fighting grasshoppers to a finish. Which will win?

It is noticeable that there are very few sheep in Christian county. This is indeed a mistake, as there is a world of shortage of mutton and wool, and it will take many years to catch up, if ever. Not a ewe lamb should be allowed to leave Christian county this year.

Mr. John H. White's great two year old filly, Julia Leone, won the first at Jamaica, N. Y., recently and third at Belmont in the big stakes against some of the world champions.

Frank Rives plowed under 40 acres of barley. His red clover is waist high. His alfalfa cannot "be beat." He is one of the best "hill farmers" in the State. He believes in diversification.

Richard Leavell's fine farm of 1300 acres is looking good these days. His wheat fields are among the best in the county. His clover fields are wonderful. Mr. Leavell's system is right up-to-date, both from a business and agricultural standpoint. His tenants are his partners.

Woman Jailer.

Mrs. A. W. Stone, of Eddyville, is the only woman jailer in Kentucky. She sent in her first claims to the State Auditor this month. Her husband was jailer and when he died she was appointed to fill the vacancy. There are thirteen candidates for the office entered in the August primary.

THE WEEKLY HALF HOLIDAY MOVEMENT.

Quite a large audience heard Mr. Jessup Sunday night in his address to storekeepers and clerks in the interest of the weekly half holiday during the summer. Mr. Jessup said he was speaking primarily in behalf of the clerks who, in the nature of the case, could not take the initiative in such a movement. If any change comes it must come from influences on the outside. He made it clear that those interested did not mean, in spirit or in letter, to coerce the merchants. The first thing to understand is that the merchants know how to run their own business. They cannot afford to jeopardize their business by undertaking untried methods, especially schemes of enthusiasts and dreamers. It was only meant to suggest to them how they might aid in certain community interests. Mr. Jessup said he was always glad to get suggestions from merchants and others on the outside as to how the church could better serve the people. Once he asked one hundred business men to suggest how the church could do more for the people. One man answered, "Come down out of the clouds and live on earth awhile." A good suggestion. He was trying to live on the earth in this special advocacy.

Mr. Jessup answered all objections to the closing movement. Once merchants objected to the six o'clock closing. Now none of them would go back to the old way. Country people as well as city people would soon catch on to the new arrangement and there would be no inconvenience at all. Stores observe national holidays now and no one is inconvenienced. Jewish merchants observe religious holidays. They do it from principle and we honor them for it. No one objects. Banks close at noon on Saturday; a real inconvenience. People adjust themselves to the closing. The closing plan does work in other places; there is no reason why it should not work here.

Mr. Jessup gave the results of his interviews with merchants. He had interviewed thirteen dry goods and clothing merchants. Ten of them would go into the closing plan if all did. Four were doubtful, with a leaning toward being unfavorable. Of thirteen grocers interviewed eleven would enter the plan; two were doubtful. A few grocers were anxious to have the closing. Of the four jewelers interviewed all would enter the plan if it were generally observed. Only one furniture store was interviewed and that one would go into the plan if all did. Hardware men were not interviewed; nor the meat market men. Summing up Mr. Jessup said he believed at least a part of the closing might be realized, especially among the grocers, and he expressed the hope that the merchants if they did not give the half holiday by closing, would grant a whole holiday to half their employees each week during the summer months.

At the close of the address an index vote was taken of the congregation. Eighty-nine patrons voted in favor of the closing. Twenty-five clerks voted for it. Four merchants voted for it. Only one negative vote was cast. The others present did not vote.

CONFEDERATE DECORATION DAY.

Saturday, June 3rd brings around again Confederate Decoration Day, when loving hands will place flowers on the graves of loved ones and plant another milestone on memory's highway. The local chapter of the U. D. C. has always remembered and celebrated the day and the officers for this year are anxious that the celebration shall be in keeping with past traditions. All veterans with their wives and families are asked to meet at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday at the Avalon. At 9:30 cars will be waiting to carry the veterans to the cemetery and the whole gathering will go in a body and services will be held before the heat of the day. Rev. A. S. Anderson of Westminster church will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion while other local ministers will take part in the further ceremonies. The veterans will be brought back to the Avalon in time for dinner. All friends and well-wishers of these old heroes will bring well filled baskets and flowers as in times past. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of Daughters of the Confederacy and that every veteran in the county will be there.

SEVEN BISHOPS.

Seven new bishops and two missionary bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church were consecrated by the Methodist conference at Saratoga and assigned as follows: Herbert Welch, Seoul, Korea; Thomas Nicholson, Chicago; Adna Wright Leonard, San Francisco; Matthew S. Simpson Hughes, Portland, Ore.; William Fitz-james Oldham, Buenos Aires; Charles Bayard Mitchell, St. Paul, Minn.; Franklin Hamilton, Pittsburgh. The missionary bishops were Eben Samuel Johnson, Africa, and Alexander Priestley Camphor, the only negro chosen to the episcopacy this session, Liberia, Africa.
